How well did this program prepare you for a career in the counseling field?
		Alumnae 1: Was not prepared for lack of open jobs on the job market
		Alumnae 2: Once I graduated and entered the job market, I was nervous as all new graduate are. However, I was confident in myself and in my skills as a counselor because I knew my education and my training was comprehensive and that I was well prepared

What was the most useful thing you learned at Loyola that prepared you for working in the counseling field?
		Alumnae 1: Conceptualization of cases Alumnae 2: It's hard to choose the single most useful thing I learned. I'd have to say the ethical decision making models and Dr. E stressing the importance of consultation and documentation has been the most important thing I learned and what I use every day at work.

After having worked in the field, is there anything that the program did not teach you that would have helpful to know?
		There was no diversity in terms of theory or potential client populations. And not a breath about anything sexual. Strange considering none of us would be here without sex-- to say the very least
