14:12	Tracey Lamont LIM	Survey: https://forms.gle/sVsqj2b8Yk6CP9cx8
	Michal Horace-St. Meinrad Seminary	Keep in mind that when you're in a breakout group, you only can chat with your group.
14:17	Casey Bustamante	Kinda nice to practice this to see how this works! Haven't done it yet.
14:21	Tracey Lamont LIM	1st break-out session: check-in's and challenges (10 min). Ensure everyone in your group is invited to share.
14:29	Casey Bustamante	Grabbing water :)
14:30	kimmc	ouch!
14:31	Fran Gorsuch	hi Paul!!! love you, Fran
14:34	Matthew Beck	Strange introverts. :)
14:34	Sarah Jarzembowski	I also think about those whose love language is touch. That is difficult too.
14:35	kimmc	Absolutely, Sara!
	Casey Bustamante	Nice to see so many familiar faces :)
	Matthew Beck	Great point about love languages.
14:36	Matthew Beck	Great point about content vs. connection!!!!
		So much of what I've seen online has been content oriented.
14:37	Paul Jarzembowski	For our young adult married couples with children, the added component of home schooling or extra parenting while working in a new job and dealing with young life in general... this can be quite overwhelming,

14:38	Christina Davis	Ditto what Paul says as someone who is living that
	Casey Bustamante	Paul, that stress was shared in our group too.
	Vicky Hathaway (Gary)	One of my friends said that it's important to give yourself permission not to attend every online webinar, Mass, speaker series. It's ok to not attend.
	Adam Ganucheau	There is also the element of grief/loss. Loss of normalcy, loss of routine. Young adults also in a great time of transition, so transition through and with grief/loss?
	Tracey Lamont LIM	2nd break-out session: creative ideas for ministering during periods of social distancing? (10 Min)
	Diana Hancharenko	Yes to the grief
	Christina Davis	@Adam that is so true!
	Paul Jarzembowski	grief and loss... we definitely need to address this. for the big and small things
14:39	Matthew Beck	I'm an emotional person and cry often these days.
	Vicky Hathaway (Gary)	Me too, @Matthew. In the moments when I can sit away from a screen, that's when all of the emotions come
	Michael Wellington	Please keep me in the loop for grief and loss resources that are digital/accessible in these times.
	Diana Hancharenko	@Matthew— yes. Me too
14:40	Tracey Lamont LIM	2nd break-out session: creative ideas for ministering during periods of social distancing? (10 Min)
	Paul Jarzembowski	@Vicky. yes. the screen actually helps a bit and then it doesn't at other times
	Casey Bustamante	Just a note of reflection, some may have already seen on Facebook. But it was summarized well that this is also an opportunity to empathize with those who are isolated/do not have access to the sacraments frequently.
	Fran Gorsuch	Matthew Beck, thanks for sharing about your tears.... i can identify and share this experience....

14:41	Darius Villalobos	Casey, that was a great point for reflection. Solidarity is key now.
	Tracey Lamont LIM	2nd break-out session: creative ideas for ministering during periods of social distancing? (10 Min)
14:55	Michael Wellington	Need to switch over to my 4pm meeting. This was helpful today, see you at the next one. Thank you
	Diana Hancharenko	Thanks, Michael!
14:56	Tracey Lamont LIM	Encourage family (or anyone who lives together) foot washings on Holy Thursday at home Venerating the Cross. Most of us have a cross or crucifix in the home. Saturday – go into your yard if you have one, have a campfire/light a fire pit. Gather around a fire and tell your stories. Use those seven readings with your family and tell the stories. Renew Baptismal promises. You can do these while watching mass/services online, try to enter into them physically
14:57	Paul Jarzembowski	Virtual Stations on Fridays, too
	Nicholas Stein	CRS has great virtual stations
	Mary Lou	Yes, I like the virtual stations on Busted Halo
	Casey Bustamante	Thank you. Those notes are helpful Tracey
14:58	Steven L	Sorry I departed my breakout abruptly but one other concern is physical well being. We are forming Fitbit Challenges
	Tracey Lamont LIM	Host an hour long open Zoom hangout - no agenda, just hang out
	kreynolds	If anyone has ideas for how people can celebrate Palm Sun at home (besides watching Mass) but something tactile folks can do, especially if they have old palms.
	Anna Johnson	To Casey's earlier point, Maryknoll will be offering a Holy Thursday reflection online about how we can use this experience to grow a sense of empathy, solidarity, and care for those who are on the margins regularly. You can email me to find out more if you'd like! ajohnson@maryknoll.org

	Gabriela Karaszewski	My young adults have been using the Maryknoll stations of the cross they are bilingual and very useful
	Anna Johnson	Oh thanks Gabriela! Awesome to hear :)
	Tracey Lamont LIM	Etsy "Cobbleworks" has Examen Cards Jen@cobbleworks
	Gabriela Karaszewski	Also, the Hispanic young adults have been posting in our Facebook group a one minute meditation on the stations of the cross
	Mark Capellazzi	https://stjosemaria.org/the-seven-last-words/
15:00	Mary Lou	Our church will have palms available beginning on Saturday
	Gabriela Karaszewski	It is the perfect time to build spirituality of communion among different groups and ministries. If a group is praying at 9 pm and the other one is too, join together!
15:01	Paul Jarzembowski	content vs connection = belief vs belonging; as we know, we need both. in Catholic circles, we need to be just as concerned about the connections and relationships as we are about the content of the Masses, Stations, prayers, etc. We need both aspects, just as we need both belief and belonging in live in-person life
	Christy Gruenbaum	Our church plans to have drive up PALMS pick up.
	Jake DeMarais	great resources for more ideas for Holy Week at home... https://cdn2.hubspot.net/hubfs/3788244/Holy_Week_at_Home%20(1).pdf
	Brian Rhude	I don't think the image is going through well, but: our friend Jonathan Lewis (Assistant Secretary for Pastoral Ministry in the Archdiocese of Washington) did an unofficial poll on Twitter to see who has been reached out to by their pastor or a parish staff member via phone to personally check in during the crisis. 75.1% said no.

	Tracey Lamont LIM	Wow...
15:02	Gabriela Karaszewski	Brian, on the other side of the coin, I have seen lots of pastors reaching out to their parishioners, one of our priests is riding his bike to give a blessing from the street.
	Paul Jarzembowski	however, we also need to be careful not to overburden our pastors and parish staff... some of whom are losing their jobs. perhaps we need to motivate members of the parish to call one another in the name of the pastor/parish?
15:03	Gabriela Karaszewski	Depending on the energy of the pastors and their age, they are organizing their parish team to call parishioners (I heard at least 3 of them in our diocese doing that)
	Diana Hancharenko	We have been encouraging parishioners to reach out to each other, and the pastoral staff has been doing the best we can. We have also done a bulk mailing of our bulletin, with a letter included encouraging people to let us know if we can do anything
15:04	Fran Gorsuch	Brian, thanks for sharing this... such a missed opportunity to connect with people!
15:05	Mary Lou	Our parish board have been given lists of parishioners to call and touch bases with
	Brian Rhude	Certainly- but so much of our energy is being put into an over-saturated market of Live Steamed Mass. Jonathan's poll is not meant to point fingers at our priests and parish staff- but should open the wider conversation as to how we are engaging as community, engaging in apostolate during these times
	Paul Jarzembowski	WhatsApp, Marco Polo, Zoom, FB Live... great chance to use multiple platforms
	Vicky Hathaway (Gary)	Amen! Lots of young adults are doing the filming for parishes. Our Sunday Mass with the bishop is being "produced" by a few young adults.
	Nicholas Stein	Thanks Jake -- that is an awesome pdf!

	Christian Rappuhn	Our parish has been breaking everyone into geographical small groups. Our staff contacts people who have been leaders in the community and ask them to start the contact among the geographical group they fit into. This spreads the work out (and also gives some of our parishioners who aren't working right now something to do).
	Casey Bustamante	I also would add, specifically, FB Watch Parties. I've seen some of us use it too. It's nice to follow along/pray together.
	Casey Bustamante	Thank you for this platform to share ideas.

15:13	Paul Jarzembowski	#StrongerTogether
	Nicholas Stein	thanks Tracey, Diana, Michal, and Paul! Good work all
	Christy Gruenbaum	Stay strong and healthy - Tracey- will pray for your husband in his nursing —thanks everyone! I really appreciate the opportunity to hear others and practical ideas - but mostly knowing others are praying for me too.
	Leanne W (Holy Infant)	Thank you all!
	DM Benzenhoefer	Thank you!!
