Hi everyone!

With Mardi Gras behind us and Easter break approaching, I hope that everyone is having a great semester and taking care of themselves! In the midst of the rigor of school and outside responsibilities, I hope you can make time to relax with friends and family and join us for the crawfish boil in April.

The MS Walk took place on February 23. I want to give a big THANK YOU to all those who donated their time and money to this important cause. If you were unable to make the event, don't fret! We will have plenty more opportunities to give back to the New Orleans community. I will keep you updated on coming service events. In the meantime, Active Minds is going to be hosting an Eating Awareness Week from April 8-12 where we will be educating the Loyola population on eating disorders and encourage to seek help if needed. This is a great opportunity to engage with Loyola students outside of Mercy Hall and I hope that y'all can join us.
