

Responding to the Goodness of Creation

FaithActs
Youth
Theology
Institute
Summer 2021

WHAT

Through immersion in Southeast Louisiana, engagement with the relevant sciences, and an exploration of Christianity's rich biblical and theological traditions, participants will discern how they can be leaders in support of creation and environmental justice. They can also earn 3 college credits and become eligible for Loyola scholarships.

WHY

Youth today need to take leadership in response to our faith that insists on the goodness of all creation and in response to recent scientific studies that call for urgent action to fight climate change.
