

GRADUATE ASSISTANT FOR AWAKENING

SUMMARY OF POSITION

The Graduate Assistant for Awakening works as a team member within the Department of Student Life and Ministry, and is primarily responsible for overseeing the Awakening Retreat program (a TEC or Search style retreat). The Awakening Retreat serves approximately 120 students during a weekend-long retreat in both the spring and fall semesters. The Graduate Assistant for Awakening helps undergraduate student leaders shape and prepare for all aspects of the retreat, and serves as a mentor to students in the community throughout the year. The position is approximately 20 hours per week of work, with flexibility for additional hours as needed when retreats approach, and less hours during less busy times of the year. Flexibility for evening and occasional weekend commitments is required. This position extends through degree completion, with a maximum commitment of three years (and June and July off each year).

COMPENSATION

Compensation includes the following: 2 LIM courses and student fees each term (Fall, Spring, and Summer) and an hourly stipend of $12 per hour for 20 hours per week over 42 weeks (Aug 1 - May 15) and up to 5 hours per week between May 16-July 31.

QUALIFICATIONS

Bachelor's degree and at least one year of student leadership experience in campus ministry activities required. Familiarity with and support of Ignatian spirituality and Jesuit education preferred. Retreat organization and faith group facilitation experience preferred. Background in theology or religious studies preferred. Must possess and maintain a current valid driver's license as a condition of employment, and must also be able to successfully pass any driver background information investigation and any driver education courses required by Risk Management.

RESIDENT MINISTER VOLUNTEER AGREEMENT

SUMMARY OF POSITION

The Department of Student Life and Ministry (SLM) is committed to providing learning opportunities which fortify our Jesuit identity and students' educational experiences. SLM empowers and partners with students to create a vibrant and pluralistic campus community through leadership opportunities that foster integrity and collaboration; reflective practice that deepens self-knowledge and faith formation; and high quality programs that spark curiosity, community-building, and inspire contemplative action.

Student Life and Ministry fortifies the mission of Loyola by educating the whole student, encouraging meaningful and accountable citizenship, and promoting interaction within a diverse and global society. Student Life and Ministry utilizes a learning-centered development model, which fosters academic excellence and student success; teaches responsible citizenship and critical thinking skills, nurtures interpersonal and spiritual development; and encourages healthy behaviors and self-management.

The Resident Minister is responsible for contributing to the overall goals of the Department of Student Life and Ministry by providing direction to integrated student learning and spiritual development, learning outcomes based on assessment, and student success strategies. While creating a mission-driven, co-curricular experience, the Resident Minister is committed to fostering a collegiate environment, which supports the Jesuit mission, fosters the development of a transformative learning community, and recognizes, affirms and celebrates the educational value of diversity. A successful RM is dedicated to applying best practices in pedagogy, advocacy and ministry, fostering students' ability to integrate academic knowledge with experiences outside of the classroom, thinking critically and innovatively about student success interventions, effectively communicating with students, peers and supervisors, and collaborating with campus and community partners.

The Resident Minister (RM) position at Loyola University New Orleans is a 12-month volunteer position for a religious or lay minister residing in a University residence hall community. The RM contributes ministerial presence, programs, and collaborations whose goals are the spiritual and faith development of residents in the Jesuit charism. The Resident Ministers develop and accomplish their goals in close collaboration with Residential Life staff.
